A Desirable Combination

WHILST its premium rates are below the average, the A M.P. has a low expense rate, a high interest return and a favourable mortality experience—a desirable combination.

The A M P. is the largest Mutual Life Office in the whole of the British Empire, and is the most profitable to its policy-holders.

Being a Mutual Society, with no shareholders, all surplus is divided amongst policy - holders yearly. A M.P. conditions are more liberal than those of any other Life Office in the world.

NOTE

As it was necessary to begin printing the book in August in many cases occurrences of a later date are not recorded, deaths reported up to the middle of October have been included, however, in the Obituary

It is well to bear in mind that a proof for correction cannot be sent unless there is an address As any sort of correction, even well-meant attempts to cut down biographies, involves expense, it is requested that no alterations should be made unless absolutely necessary Corrections must be made on the proofs themselves and not written out on separate slips of paper

Any one who has had the Companionage of a British Order conferred on him and has not yet been included in Who's Who, is invited to write for a form on which to fill in particulars as to birth, parentage, career, etc, for the next edition

EXECUTORS

The task of finding a capable and responsible person who is willing to act as an executor or trustee is not easy In addition, an executor so appointed is no less liable to die than the testator himself, in which event the whole problem is raised anew and fresh expense entailed—possibly at an inopportune moment

The Westminster Bank is willing to undertake such duties, and in doing so provides several distinct advantages It is permanent, and it is accessible, expert business knowledge is assured, there is no possibility of loss by fraud or unauthorized investments, and absolute secrecy is observed So far as possible the Bank is prepared to employ the family Solicitor

A Book giving conditions of appointment may be obtained from the Trustee Department, 51 Threadneedle Street London, E C 2

The Race-course Betting Control Board was established in 1928 by the RACE-COURSE BETTING ACT passed by Parliament in that year.

Its constitution is as follows

	Appointed by
Sir Clement Hindley, K C I E, M Inst C E, M Inst T M I E, Ind, Chairman	The Secretary of State for the Home Department
Sir Reginald Blair, J P	Do
The Most Hon The Marquis of Zetland, G C S I, G C I E	The Jockey Club
Sir Iain Colquhoun, Bart, D S O	The Secretary of State for Scotland
The Rt Hon Viscount d'Abernon, G C B, G C M G	The Chancellor of the Exchequer
Mr W E Fry	Tattersalls' Committee
The Rt Hon Lord Hamilton of Dalzell, K T, C V O	The Jockey Club
The Hon Gilbert Johnstone	The National Hunt Committee
Sir William McLintock, G C B, C V O	The Jockey Club
The Hon Alexander Parker	The Minister of Agriculture and Fisheries
The Hon Reginald Parker	The Race-course Association, Limited
Brig -Gen The Hon F C Stanley, C M G, D S O	The National Hunt Committee

The constitution of the Board is laid down in the Act, and it will be seen that it comprises members officially nominated by Government Departments and the authorities which control racing

The Board was entrusted by Parliament with the duty of installing Totalisator facilities on race courses in England, Scotland and Wales, and 62 courses have been so equipped since the Board commenced to work

The fully mechanized Totalisator in use at Newmarket, Ayr, Hamilton Park, Hurst Park, Leicester, is giving every satisfaction, and it has been the subject of close attention by race course executives and experts from all over the world

The equipment possesses the virtue of portability, so that the integral working parts can be transferred from one race course to another as circumstances require It is thus possible to give exceptionally effective Totalisator service over a much greater number of courses than would be the case were the equipment stationary

The main arguments used in the House of Commons advocating the establishment of the Totalisator on British race courses were based on the desirability of securing for the sport of racing and horse breeding some percentage of the money utilized in betting, and under the Act the Board has power to fix the percentage to be deducted from the Totalisator pool, the present deduction is 6%—the lowest in any part of the world

The Board's first consideration has been the provision of such Totalisator facilities as will permit the public to use this form of wagering with the maximum convenience Substantial improvements are already in evidence in a number of courses in the shape of improved entrances and exits new, well constructed buildings replacing out-worn structures, new pathways and roadways Many other improvements are under construction

The surplus which in due course will become available from the working of the Totalisator is allocated by Parliament under the Race course Betting Act for three specific objects the improvement of horse racing, the encouragement of horse breeding and contribution to charities

No individual, whether a member of the Board, its staff or the public, can participate in any of the profits which will eventuate

The Board's accounts have to be laid before Parliament annually by the Home Secretary

By using the Totalisator on the race course as the medium for bets race goers will be contributing indirectly to the maintenance and upkeep of the valuable national sport of horse racing

Distinctive Craftsmanship

Craftsmanship has earned a new distinction in Namiki Pens Whilst the perfectly free ink flow, the pure iridium pointed nib and other features have been the objects of considerable scientific research, the embellished and emblazoned barrels and caps are indeed works of art

Every design is wrought in genuine Makie lacquer by the most expert artists in Japan, chief among whom is the lacquerer to the Japanese Royal Household, where Namiki pens are used

There is no other pen that can so satisfy the æsthete They are a pride to possess and a pleasure to use and behold
